Trip Itinerary

Day One: Sunday, January 4

We'll depart SVSU via motorcoach for a flight from Detroit to San Diego. After registering and getting our room assignments, we'll gather for dinner at the hotel followed by an orientation session. (D)

Day Two: Monday, January 5

Our day begins with breakfast in the hotel followed by a presentation by a local historian about the military's influence in transforming San Diego into a city with the largest Navy and Marine Corps complex in the United States. After the lecture, we'll travel to San Diego Bay for a two-hour harbor cruise. This narrated harbor excursion shows how closely the city is tied to its maritime heritage. The excursion covers Harbor and Shelter Islands, Point Loma, Cabrillo National Monument, North Island Naval Air Station, the Submarine Base, as well as the Coronado Bridge. After an included lunch we'll travel to Little Italy where you'll experience San Diego's rich Genoese and Sicilian history on a guided walking tour. At one time, more than 6,000 Italian families lived in Little Italy and toiled to build San Diego into the center of the world tuna industry. We'll enjoy wine tasting and dinner at an Italian restaurant in Little Italy. (B/L/D)

Day Three: Tuesday, January 6

After breakfast at the hotel, you'll learn about the development of the barrio and Chicano Park and be introduced to the history of San Diego's Hispanic community. We then head to Chicano Park for a guided tour. Steeped in a rich history and vibrant culture, the residents of the barrio take great pride in who they are and what they have accomplished. This pride has manifested itself in a series of murals painted in the center of Chicano Park. Lunch will be on your own at the Coronado Ferry Landing. In the afternoon we visit Hotel De Coronado, one of the most recognizable features of San Diego. Beginning construction in 1887, it was built as a premier resort for the wealthy and has quite a famous guest list. It is one of the oldest and largest all-wooden buildings in California. Upon the return to our hotel, Alex and Pam McGeary, a husband and wife team of sustainable vintners from Warner Springs Ranch, will discuss the science of growing grapes and producing wines in a completely sustainable way. Samples will be provided! Our dinner will be at the hotel. (B/D)

Day Four: Wednesday, January 7

After breakfast at the hotel, a long-time friend of the San Diego Zoo will give a presentation and set the stage for the day's excursion to the Zoo. The world-famous San Diego Zoo, in Balboa Park, is one of the largest, most progressive zoos in the world with over 4,000 animals of more than 800 species. It is privately operated by the nonprofit Zoological Society on 100 acres of parkland leased from the City of San Diego. You have the entire day to explore the zoo. Lunch will be on your own in Balboa Park. Dinner tonight will be back at the hotel and you will have your evening at leisure. (B/D)

Day Five: Thursday, January 8

Following breakfast at the hotel, we head via motor coach to La Jolla for an educational ranger-led exploration of Torrey Pines State Natural Reserve. The Reserve is located within San Diego city limits and yet remains one of the wildest stretches of land on the Southern California coast. 2000 acres of land are as they were before San Diego was developed with the chaparral plant community, the rare and elegant Torrey pine trees, miles of unspoiled beaches, and a lagoon that is vital to migrating seabirds. Prior to lunch in La Jolla, we will learn about the highlights of the town through a motor coach drive-by. After lunch, we head to the Birch Aquarium at Scripps. Its mission is to provide ocean science education, to interpret Scripps research, and to promote ocean conservation. The Aquarium promotes conservation through education and research, believing that with increased understanding of the ocean, people will respect and protect the marine environment. Dinner will be on your own tonight. (B/L)

Day Six: Friday, January 9

Following breakfast, there will be a cooking demonstration led by the two head chefs from San Diego State University. Past trip participants have rated this a "five star" experience. It will include a discussion of how foods complement one another and how the fusion of foods can create a whole new experience of flavors. Individual tastings will also be provided. After lunch at the hotel you have the rest of the day to explore San Diego on your own. After our farewell dinner, the performers from the Department of Music and Dance at San Diego State University will entertain us. (B/L/D)

Day Seven: Saturday, January 10

After breakfast at the hotel, we depart for the San Diego airport. After landing at the Detroit airport, we head to SVSU via motorcoach and arrive back in the early evening. (B)
