(227) Free Senior Fitness Test

The Senior Fitness Test is an opportunity for seniors to participate in activities that provide data on personal fitness levels and is specifically designed for seniors 60-94 years of age. As we age, it is important to be aware of fitness levels and how they relate to functional activities like putting away groceries, getting dressed, or getting around in home or community settings with a decreased risk of falls. Under the supervision of SVSU faculty, students from kinesiology and occupational therapy will do a brief interview to better understand your specific needs and expectations, and then they will guide you through each activity. Results and interpretation of these activities will be discussed with you, and a copy of this information will be provided to take with you when you leave. The entire process takes about 1 hour and you can decide if you want to take part in all activities, or just some of them depending on your specific needs. There are a total of 3 sessions available, so please specify which day and time frame you prefer when registering. Be sure to wear non-slip shoes (tennis shoes) and comfortable clothing

(266) Run Rose Run by Dolly Parton and James Patterson follows Annie Lee Keyes, a talented young singer who arrives in Nashville with big dreams and a dark past she's trying to escape. Her captivating performance catches the attention of Ethan Blake and retired country star Ruthanna Ryder, who decides to mentor her. But as Annie Lee's star rises, so does the risk of her dangerous secrets being exposed, threatening her life and her shot at stardom.

(267) The Dictionary of Lost Words by Pip Williams is a captivating historical novel set during the creation of the first Oxford English Dictionary. It follows Esme, a young girl who grows up around the famous Scriptorium, where words are carefully collected and defined. As she witnesses how some words are disregarded—often those used by women and the working class—she begins her own dictionary, preserving these “lost” words and their unique meanings. The story beautifully explores themes of language, identity, and the voices often overlooked in history.

(268) The Air Raid Book Club by Annie Lyons is a heartwarming historical novel set during World War II, following the story of London bookshop owner Gertie Bingham. After losing her husband, Gertie finds solace in her community and her beloved bookshop. When a young Jewish refugee named Hedy arrives from Germany, Gertie takes her in, and together they form a book club to lift the spirits of neighbors enduring the hardships of war. Through the power of stories, friendship, and resilience, Gertie and Hedy forge a bond that transforms their lives and the lives of those around them.

(269) The Wedding People: A Novel by Alison Espach - On a beautiful day in Newport, Rhode Island, Phoebe Stone arrives at the Cornwall Inn in a green dress and gold heels, mistaken for one of the wedding guests. In reality, she's the only visitor not attending the big event; she's come to fulfill a long-held dream of enjoying oysters and sunset sails with her late husband. At rock bottom and determined to indulge herself, Phoebe unexpectedly forms a bond with the bride, who has meticulously planned for every disaster except for Phoebe's presence, leading to surprising confessions between the two women.
